Information last updated on 4 June 2018
Course Information

There have been some major changes to units in your degree for 2018 that you must be aware of:

1) GLST200 has been replaced by SOCS243. Students who commenced study in 2017 or prior can still count GLST200 towards the requirements for the Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Global Studies. If you have not successfully completed GLST200, you will be required to complete SOCS243 in its place.

2) GSLT201 has been replaced by GEOG207. Students who commenced study in 2017 or prior can still count GSLT201 towards the requirements for the Bachelor of Laws/Bachelor of Global Studies. If you have not successfully completed GSLT201, you will be required to complete GEOG207 in its place.

Study Abroad or Global Studies International Internship Program

Global Studies degrees feature a compulsory overseas experience in semester 2 of Year 3: GLST300 (internship) or GLST301-304 (Study Abroad). You need to familiarize yourself with when you are due to complete this experience, and begin planning from the start of your degree what you will do. You will need to attend information sessions on Study Abroad and the GSIIP in the year BEFORE you undertake your overseas experience, normally Year 2 of your degree. Please note that some Study Abroad and GSIPP activities will have additional entry requirements such as a minimum GPA.

Working with Children and Police Checks

Those students participating in the Global Studies International Internship Program must obtain background checks as required by Federal and State/Territory laws if their proposed work might involve working with children. Please refer to your Faculty’s Work Integrated Learning[1] webpage for requirements in your local State or Territory. Your application for the GSIIP should include evidence of the relevant Federal and/or State working with children and police checks, where relevant.
